Purpose	Inform participants of event and get feedback on event and specifically on panel perspectives
Desired Outcome	Interest in even and feedback on panel participants
Background	As part of a series of data events, OIMA will be sponsoring a Data Fair on March 30. This year the data fair will likely showcase groundwater systems in the morning and discuss NPDES data in the afternoon. The NPDES focus complements the kick-off of the Quality Assurance Program Plan (QAPrP) and is intended to provide a venue for stakeholders, both internal and external, to examine the NPDES data lifecycle (collection, storage, access, and information delivery). The session is meant to be interactive and gather ideas about what is working for stakeholders and what can be improved. A large portion of the draft agenda is for a moderated panel discussion. Do Roundtable Participants have suggestions on who should comprise the panel? Some ideas include a laboratory, a permit writer, a compliance staff, and a TMDL writer.

Notes	Greg provided information that OIMA's goal is get all of the data that we are requiring and generating, into databases. Purpose	EPA R9 would like to develop criteria in collaboration with states (and each RB) for each program that receives funding from EPA. The purpose of the criteria would be to assess relative performance across states and programs as well as making EPA's expectations as transparent as possible. For the NPDES program, EPA will use existing information, like PQRs, self-evaluations done at the state level (i.e. performance reports), and other information already reported to EPA (i.e. 106 workplan reporting).
Desired Outcome	Information Sharing; Feedback
Background	This effort complements already existing program evaluations, as mentioned above. For more background, about EPA's tracking, see the National Water Program websites listed below. The National Program is charged with evaluating the progress it is making in developing and implementing effective programs to monitor, protect, and improve waters of the U.S. As such, the National Program tracks 110 performance measures under 15 sub-objectives. The NPDES Permitting Program is under the water quality sub-objective (i.e. measure codes WQ-11 to 14, and WQ-19). (These are sometimes referred to as ACS measures/commitments).

Purpose:	Provide a status update for the Draft NPDES QA Implementation Project Charter.
Desired Outcome:	Information sharing.

The NPDES QA Work Group assisted with the preparation of a Draft NPDES QA Implementation Project Charter that is currently in circulation for comment among Regional Board representatives and other affected offices. The Implementation Project Charter sets out a granular, stepwise plan to address QA issues for the NPDES Wastewater Program. The project requires approximately six years for full development and the schedule organizes activities on a fiscal year basis. Early efforts will focus on (1) determining how Quality Assurance Project Plan elements will be satisfied through staff and discharger activities; (2) adapting U.S. EPA QA guidance to the NPDES Program, and (3) identifying where data problems are occurring and the alternatives for resolution. In the near future, we will distribute surveys to staff that directly deal with data to determine the variety of data problems. Subsequent efforts will work on resolving data problems, starting with the easier issues.
